Håkan and Fredrik Nilsson

A versatile all-round harvester head that ticks all the right boxes

Ever since 2008, cousins Håkan and Fredrik Nilsson have been running the forestry company Skogsentreprenad Br. Nilsson AB, a company operating in southern Sweden and with a history that dates back 50 years. Today, they have ten forest machines, just as many employees, and a primary focus on thinning in the forests of southwestern Småland.

Their Komatsu 911 is equipped with an SP 561 LF and, according to Håkan and Fredrik, this is one of the best harvester heads on the market and is perfectly suited to the type of forest they harvest.

"Finding a head that ticks all the right boxes is no easy task, but we'd dare say that the 561 does so."
