Benny and Tobias Lundmark

A compact and strong harvester head with high productivity

A little more than thirty years ago, Benny Lundmark founded Mano Skog AB, a company working out of Fromheden/Norsjö, about 80 km west of Skellefteå in northern Sweden. Over the years, the company has got through many machines and harvester heads, the latest combination being a John Deere 1470 equipped with an SP 661 LF, which, according to Tobias Lundmark, is the best head they have ever used.

"I think that the best things about this SP head are its productivity, its fast feed, and that it's easy to find the cutting window,"

Benny Lundmark
